

THE RED CLOUD CHIEF.

A. C. HOSMER, Proprietor. FRIDAY, JUN 6, 1884.

Farmers! Attention! Lindley has the best stock of machine oils, and also of mixed paint to be found in the Republican Valley.

A Reward. Will give for any information of the person who stole one of my wolves, a straw hat, the one who returns wolf alive will receive a coat; and one who helps to convict the thief a pair of shoes.

BEST value for your money at the leading millinery store, one door north First National bank.

ASSORTMENT the best and prices the lowest at the leading millinery store, one door north the First National bank.

CHILDREN'S hats, stylish and cheap, at the leading millinery store, J. A. Fowler.

$25 dollars will buy a New Home sewing machine, the best on the market, at Haresnape's furniture store. 321f

SILKS, satins, velvets, laces, Hamburgs, etc., marked down very low to close out our entire stock of goods. Call and see. Mrs. NEWHOUSE.

Wanted Immediately two blacksmiths and a wagon maker. Must be good mechanics. Steady work. Red Cloud Carriage Works, Red Cloud Neb.

Go to J. G. Potter's. He is closing out his stock of goods. Great bargains in the next ten days.

HEADQUARTERS for all kinds of stylish millinery at Mrs. McBride's.

Go with the crowd to Mrs. McBride's the leading milliner, for hats.

Wool, sacks and wool twine at Morhart & Fulton's, Red Cloud. 2f

Stock Pastured at Red Cloud mills, 30cets per month for yearlings, 35 for two year olds, 40 for cows, 60 for colts and 75 for horses. Salted and attended to by Marvin Chase at the mills. [42-2m] J. Q. POTTER.

LINEX pants at 50 and 75 cents at the Golden Eagle clothing store.

Piases, piques, percales, gingham, shambrias, etc., at Mrs. Newhouse's, cheap to close out. 41-f

LADIES and children's neckwear, ribbons, hosiery, hair nets, parasols, notions etc., etc., all closed out very cheap at Mrs. Newhouse's. 41-f

REMEMBER, Brewer at the new lumber yard, is prepared to make figures on bills of lumber as low or lower than any yard in the Republican Valley.

LAWNS, Canvas, white goods, worsted goods suitable for the season, at low figures to close out our stock. Mrs. NEWHOUSE.

LAST month of prize drawing at the Golden Eagle clothing store. Do not lose the precious opportunity.

"It pays to do a square business," is the motto of C. Wiener, proprietor of the Golden Eagle clothing store.

WHITE vests at the Golden Eagle clothing store.

CITY BREVITIES.

DAVE KALEY is in Iowa.

JOHN SHILLEY went to York, Friday.

MR. MYERS is a happy father. It's a girl.

MR. J. D. POST has returned from Alabama.

DANIEL MEARNS, of Berne, called on us Tuesday.

NEXT Sunday is children's day at the M. E. Church.

W. H. STROHM, has a new sign in front of his office.

A. H. BROWN, wife and children, have arrived in the city.

MR. SMITH of Beatrice was in Red Cloud the other day.

MRS. ANWOOD is building a cottage on South Webster street.

JOHN BARKLEY gave a ball at the opera house, Friday night.

THE Republican river has been on a "high lonesome" this week.

H. FEIGHT & Co. have fitted up their saloon in a very neat style.

ABOUT $50 has been raised for a base ball game on the fourth of July.

MR. D. JESUS and wife go to Michigan this week for a pleasure trip.

E. C. HAWLEY, had his his shoulder dislocated the other day by a fall.

ALL fourth of July committees report Saturday night at sheriff's office.

The California Blaine delegation passed through here during last Saturday.

ELSEWHERE in to-day's paper will be found a list of the school directors for 1885.

J. H. HART and Miss Maggie Fuller were married on Wednesday by Rev. Yeiser.

MR. A. HUGHES, has started a new barber shop in Red Cloud, in Mr. Roby's old stand.

A. J. MEANS drew this week from the government $1450 back pension. He is a happy man.

MR. JOHN TAYLOR made final proof a few days since. Mr Taylor was one of the early settlers.

ELEGANT millinery at Mrs. Fowler's. CROQUET sets at Lindley's. Cheap as dirt.

BUTTERICK'S patterns at Mrs. McBride's.

G. A. R. suits at the Golden Eagle clothing store.

Good millinery at very low prices at Mrs. Fowler's.

THE Women's Relief Corps will meet at the G. A. R. hall, Monday, June 9, at 2:30 p. m.

Mr A. Cook, has had his residence nicely painted and grained. C. A. Owens was the artist.

W. P. WATSON of Logan county, O. has arrived, with his family in Red Cloud, and will locate here.

We call attention to the advertisement of the International railway in another column of to-day's paper.

This week Mr. E. Geist, Geo. Bosserman, and some other gentlemen from Indiana, are here looking after land.

THE Red Cloud Building Association gave a grand and successful ball last Thursday evening at the opera house.

The trial of Cox, the man who is alleged to have killed Tobin at Blue Hill will be tried to-day in the district court.

HAIR waves at Mrs. McBride's.

On Tuesday night H. G. Kinsey, express messenger on the B. & M., was made a valiant knight in the K. P. lodge.

MORE new goods at Mrs. Fowler's.

MR. DICKERSON, of the firm of Ormsby & Dickerson, bought 600 dozen eggs and 1500 pounds of butter at Riverton, Wednesday.

OUR county superintendent, Mr. C. W. Springer, has been on the sick list for the last few days, but we hope will soon be better.

Mrs. B. DAWSON mother of our friend, J. H. Ferman, died on Saturday morning after a lingering illness of several weeks duration.

NICHOLAS YENSEN, of Wells, has planted 100 acres of broom corn. He annually makes from $1000 to $1500 out of his broom corn.

THE county commissioners are engaged this week in the pleasant duty of equalizing the assessments made in the various precincts this spring.

ALFRED AULTZ, to the great surprise of his friends, was joined in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Ione Tarnbaugh, on Saturday, by Rev. Yeiser.

NEW goods at Mrs. McBride's.

A TRAM load of California excursionists passed through Red Cloud Monday en route for the east. They had nine coaches and two engines to pull the train.

THE CHIEF acknowledges a grand serenade from the Red Cloud Cornet Band on last Tuesday evening. The boys will receive our thanks for the same.

MR. W. E. JACKSON is doing a land office business in selling lots. He recently sold nine in one day. This is all on account of the arrival of the U. P. railway.

F. B. SMITH has closed his school in district 55 on account of the measles. Mr. Smith is a good teacher, and a school that secures him as an instructor is lucky.

THE members of Garfield Post, G. A. R., will hold a two-days campfire on July 4th, 1884, at which time they will go into camp in some pleasant location near the city.

THERE will be a special meeting of the W. C. T. U. at Mrs. Brakefield's on Monday, June 9, at 3 p. m. All who are interested in the temperance work are invited to be present.

A. CUMMINGS, the restaurant man has had an addition built on to his restaurant, and will now run flour and feed store in connection with his other business. See his new advertisement. CONSORTS at Mrs. McBride's.

THE base ball game between the Home club and the B. & M. nine was a kind of wash out. The tally stood 10 to 20 in favor of the Home Club. Two or three of the boys got their fingers used up.

MR. E. BLOTT, formerly of Red Cloud and now an enterprising butcher of Guide Rock called on THE CHIEF Monday. He is a very pleasant gentleman and informed us that Guide Rock was booming.

THE Red Cloud carriage works will build on a 39 foot addition to the works. This establishment is prospering and turn out the best work in the west. They are here to stay and don't you forget it.

MR. S. O. BAKER's eating house is in full running order now. The U. P. hotel, S. O. Baker, manager, will be an important enterprise in lower Red Cloud. We hope he will meet with success in his new enterprise.

MR. S. O. BAKER has been engaged in building a good gravel walk from Jackson's addition to the depot. This is a good thing. Now the city should build a board walk to meet that, from the business portion of the city.

Mrs. MCBRIDE'S hats.

READ C. WIENER'S new advertisement in this issue. Mr. Wiener is a thorough go-ahead business man, and is furnishing the people with excellent bargains in clothing, gents' furnishing goods, boots, shoes, etc. See him before you buy.

What thing that is really needed, is a home around the Red Cloud cemetery, and some one should be hired to clean up the grounds.

MR. HENRY COOK with his usual enterprise has built a sidewalk in front of his handsome residence. We hope others will do likewise.

W. H. SMITH, of Minden, vice-president of the Nebraska Lumber Company, has been visiting his father, Mr. J. H. Smith, manager of the Red Cloud creamery, for a few days past.

MR. A. F. LOCKHART has purchased the lively stable formerly owned by Rudrow & Edson and will refit and make it first-class in every particular. See his advertisement in to-day's paper. Success to him.

MR. JOHN HULL has sold his farm near Red Cloud to Charley Schultz for $2050, and will have a public sale on the 12th. Mr. Hull is a good farmer and we hope he will invest his money in another Webster county farm.

MR. N. SCHEP, of Milo, Iowa, is in the city. He is making arrangements to start a nursery in Red Cloud. A few weeks ago he sold several hundred evergreen trees in this city, and they have given the best satisfaction and nearly all are living.

THE members of Calantha lodge, Knights of Pythias went to Superior on Wednesday night and instituted a flourishing lodge in that growing town. The boys all rode the goat in good shape and were much pleased with the order and its secrets.

THE following members of the Masonic order went to Blue Hill on Friday night to attend lodge: John Moore, Will Parks, J. A. Tulley, R. L. Tinker, J. L. Miller, Geo. Ball, W. H. Strohm, Dr. Schenk, J. B. Wilcox. The boys report having a good time.

THE editorial association met at Alma on the 23d, and perfected an organization. A number of the editors of the valley were present. Speeches were made by several prominent quill drivers. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Red Cloud.

NOTICE is hereby given that the money is now in the hands of the county treasurer to pay off all registered general fund warrants for 1883, from registered number 20 to registered No. 51 inclusive, which said warrants cease to draw interest from this date.

MR. B. J. WOODWARD, one of our staunch farmers will have a public sale of stock on his farm ten miles northeast of Guide Rock, on the 16th. He sells 40 head of cattle. He made this office a very pleasant call on Saturday. See his advertisement elsewhere in to-day's paper.

WHAT are committees doing about making preparations for the fourth of July celebration? This matter should be looked after at once. It cannot be successfully laid over until the last day. The time to act in this matter is now. Every committee should do its part, and do it at once.

OUR people should not forget that the agricultural society have decided to hold a fair. Now let the managers make some arrangements to fence in the grounds, make proper building, and let's have a first-class fair. A good fair is worth a great deal to a county. It can be done. And don't say no.

MR. PALMER WAY, on of the proprietors of Way's hardware store in this city, was sandbagged by garroters in Lincoln on Saturday night while entering his premises. Fortunately Mr. Way was not knocked senseless, and hollered "murder" which scared the villains away before they could rob him.

On Tuesday morning as ye local was wending his way past the residence of C. Wiener, proprietor of the Golden Eagle, we heard the familiar tune, "Empty is the cage, wolf's gone." We asked why all this musical strain, and were informed that during the night some fellow had stolen his pet wolves, which head lately purchased.

THE Red Cloud creamery is now doing a magnificent business. In the month of May, 1883, the creamery made 5730 pounds of butter, and in May, 1884, it made 8175 pounds, for which the farmers received the neat sum of $1226.25. The increase over the corresponding month of 1883 being 2445 pounds. This is indeed a good showing, and we are led to believe that the creamery is a source of much good to the farming class.

A NEW grocery house has been opened in Red Cloud. Mr. B. F. Mizer, whom we mentioned some few weeks ago as having located here with a view of going into business, has decided to open a first-class grocery, queensware, glassware and provision store, at Marsh's old stand. His stock, which is very extensive, is now arriving, and is being properly arranged, and probably he will be open for business the last part of this week. Mr. Mizer, is a thorough gentleman and an experienced business man, and proposes to make Red Cloud and Webster county his home. THE CHIEF wishes him success in his enterprise, and predicts for him a large trade from the people of this vicinity.

INFORMATION—is wanted of Mr. John B. Moore, who left Wymore the 15th of March for Red Cloud. Mr. Moore is a small man with gray hair and has only one eye. Any information of him will be thankfully received by his wife, Mrs. Annie Moore, Wymore, Neb. 3w

ALL comrades of Garfield Post, No. 80 are hereby ordered to report for duty not later than July 4, 1884, at 9 a. m., in light marching order, with two days cooked rations. By order of J. L. MILLER, P. C.

THE school library will be open on next Saturday from 4 to 6 o'clock p. m., and will be opened at the same time on every other Saturday thereafter during vacation. W. B. ROBY, Chairman pro tem.

RED CLOUD MARKET.

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Winter Wheat, Oats, Rye, Barley, Corn, Beef, and Cattle.

Another memorial service day has come and gone, and with it a very pleasant day, and quite a large attendance of people as witnesses of the successful ceremonies held in honor of the event. The Grand Army of the Republic, according to previous arrangements, formed promptly at one o'clock on the walk in front of their headquarters and marched to the public school grounds where they halted, and Mr. David Lutz, an old soldier, made the following speech:

"Ladies, comrades, and children: You are assembled to celebrate one of your country's most sacred and hallowed days, a day whose return and memory is cherished by every American patriot with an ardor, zeal and devotion superior to that which they entertain for any other day; a day set apart by the nation, to the nation, for the exercise of thoughts and deeds, commemorative of the services and sacrifices

"Of our sires, sons, and brothers, Our sisters, daughters, and our mothers, All who nobly 'dared and died' in our country's cause, To foil her enemies and vindicate her laws."

It has seemed to me this day was providentially designed to be emphatically an evolver of the purest, and fullest, affectional feeling that it is possible for, one being to entertain for another, having been fixed at a time when all nature is considered to have attained the very climax of fresh and beautiful new life, and in this it seems appropriately symbolic of the beautiful freshness and magnified grandeur of the revived human entity in the spirit world, to which our beloved and departed comrades have only preceded us.

Al, yes! my faith's keen sight beholds them now upon the slopes, far up the heights, beyond the mystic river's turbid tide. Have ye not faith to see them, comrades, as they pass in grand review before the Chief Commander of the universe? See! see! They wear the more their "faded coats of blue." They've changed them all for robes of spotless white. And hark ye! Can ye not hear that rapturous music, peal on peal? That is from the consolidated heavenly choristers. And list ye to the thrilling theme they chant. "Hail, all hail the martyr throng, who gave their lives a sacrifice, to atone a nation's crime." The enslavement of a race.

O, honored comrades over in that spirit land, Almost we wish that in your columns we might stand, To sing the glories, your patriot deeds have won. Are brighter, far, than all that shine beneath the sun.

Yet not our wills, Almighty Chief, but Thine be all the race which Thou hast set by us to lead. Let us all join our comrades on the spirit shore. Camp ever on Thy holy mount, and "murder out no more."

Oh! would we linger on such enchanted ground, To view the glory our comrades all surround. But they are spirits now, we mortals on this sphere. They've ceased from mundane marches, we'll soon have finished ours here.

How superlatively impressive then should be our service to-day. A service rendered but once a year this way.

As we gather the beautiful flowers, From garden, conservatory, and plain, And pluck from all of earth's verdant bowers, Branches to strew on the graves of our slain.

How should our minds retrace the south, And ponder o'er their deeds, where our comrades lay dead. The clanking of sabres, shells from cannon's mouth, And the blood covered ground, of a brother's death bed.

But fairer to view, is the victory won, On a land of the brave, our home of the free. Richest and brightest, loveliest under the sun, Oh! Glory to God that this home is for me.

After which the procession nearly one half mile long was formed in the following order: Garfield Post, school children, Ladies' Relief Corps, buggies, wagons, etc., and proceeded to the cemetery. On arriving there the Grand Army boys and school children decorated the soldiers graves with beautiful flowers. This done the imposing ceremonies of the Grand Army of the Republic followed, at the close of which Mr. Joseph Garber, made the following very appropriate remarks:

"Comrades and citizens: We have paused at this memorial spot, consecrated by the flag, to do a hallowed service.

We could not find all the graves, for in the restless waters are some slumbering beneath its surface; the bluffs of the still and quiet rivers cover some; the high mountains look down on their slopes and bases up on the graves of the noble and quiet dead. Let thoughts of peace and heavenly rest pass from the living to our dead comrades whose graves we could not find.

Comrades we are by the nation's request called upon to pay a solemn tribute to those who have fallen into that dreamless sleep in their everlasting peace-shuts down their eyelids still, and they fell on the line between the aggressive feet of freedom and a crazed rebellion. Let us not forget those whose march and tread did not reach the end of that great struggle, but died by the camp fires; died in the smoke cloud of battle; died in the murderous prison pens. We are the living, they are the dead, yet with us they shared all the hardships in camp, the weary tread in the march, and all the dangers in battle. Long years after they have fallen the child is taught to decorate and consecrate their graves. So it will be long after its generation shall have passed away. Other children will have learned of a great civil war, through which the mantle of liberty was handed to them sprung from your loins and in whose veins courses your most heroic blood. So it will be in the lap of liberty won by the nation's defenders in which will be cradled all the millions yet to come. Let nature's freedom and white robed peace smile hand in hand o'er the graves of the loyal dead. No language is so profound, no eloquence so great to add one laurel to their fame. Their deeds stand far above the feeble efforts of man to add or demand one single flower to or from their wealth. They stand as a monument before the world with the inscription "We died that our nation might live" Our comrades whom we remember were not men of words, but deeds. All their words were spoken by the click of the musket, the charge of bayonets and the uplifted sabre. With them there was but one sentence, an unconditional surrender of treason. Then, my comrades, as we peacefully and solemnly have laid the flowers on the graves of the noble dead let us hope that with them there is peace, happiness, and eternal rest, cradled in the lap of an alwise and merciful God."

The G. A. R. platoon then fired three salutes, which closed the ceremonies at the cemetery, and the crowd returned to the city, where services were held in the Presbyterian church, according to the usages and rules of the Post. The Rev. J. K. Harris delivered a short but appropriate address to the comrades and others present.

After the services at the church, the ceremonies were concluded and all returned to their various occupations.

During the ceremonies of decorating the graves the business houses closed up and no business was done from one o'clock until four. The exercises were altogether successful and the day very properly observed by nearly all classes.

At a regular meeting of Red Cloud Lodge, No. 65, I. O. O. F., the following officers were elected:

J. A. Tulley, N. G. J. A. Parkes, V. G. Thos. Hatfield, secretary. J. P. Bayha, representative to the grand lodge.

PROGRAM for the Good Templars' lodge Friday night, June 6.

Recitation.....Willie Sealey Dialogue.....Minnie Smith and others Music.....Mattie Hacker Paper editors.....Lora McBride, Mr. Maryatt Speech.....J. H. Brewer Question box.....Eva Walker, F. S. Dow, O. H. Marayatt.

A full attendance of the lodge is requested as there is important business to transact.

Misrepresentation. A certain firm in Red Cloud on solicitation and big inducements, combined with false quotations sent them, were inveigled into buying up a carload of onions, and shipping them to one of the shipping fronds which abound in a great many of the larger cities to which our business men ship to. The herein referred to was a certain D. E. Good, of Atchison, Kansas, who sent his quotations that onions were worth $1 per bushel and scarce at that. The parties in Red Cloud at once sent the onions, and a few days after shipment his royal nibs, D. E. Good, drew on the parties that shipped the onions for $53.75, claiming that the carload of onions sold for that much short of freight, commission and drayage. I think that D. E. Good is not very good, and he must have a jaw of iron and a cheek of brass to think he can impose such cussedness upon our business men without a murmur. **

School Directors for 1884-5.

- 1. A. H. Cray, Guide Rock. 2. J. A. Tulley, Red Cloud. 3. Joseph Noble, Scott. 4. D. E. Caspock, Guide Rock. 5. James Baker, Secunda. 6. O. B. Harvey, Inavale. 7. S. E. Martin, Red Cloud. 8. H. B. Simons, Red Cloud. 9. D. H. Call, Red Cloud. 10. J. H. Scripper, Guide Rock. 11. W. F. Smith, Inavale. 12. James Stewart, Wells. 13. E. Anderson, Blue Hill. 14. John Benzonsen, Red Cloud. 15. J. H. Gibson, Anahoy. 16. Jos. Topham, Guide Rock. 17. Wm. Kyker, Guide Rock. 18. J. P. Smith, Red Cloud. 19. S. M. Miller, Wheatland. 20. A. J. Ritter, Beatrice. 21. M. F. Baker, Coding. 22. James H. Brooker, Red Cloud. 23. J. S. Turner, Blue Hill. 24. John Paliney, Red Cloud. 25. J. M. Dickerson, Red Cloud. 26. John Greenhalgh, Cowles. 27. Wm. King, Thomasville. 28. James W. Pelly, Anahoy. 29. E. M. Thorne, Wells. 30. P. Zimmerman, Blue Hill. 31. D. G. Greer, Red Cloud. 32. J. H. Kessner, Red Cloud. 33. W. H. Middleton, Thomasville. 34. N. L. D. Smith, Red Cloud. 35. A. J. Call, Cowles. 36. E. M. Grubb, Catherton. 37. Peter Marsden, Red Cloud. 38. J. C. Sumner, Catherton. 39. DeJay Judson, Inavale. 40. John McCullum, Catherton. 41. A. H. Grant, Blue Hill. 42. E. M. Pearson, Blue Hill. 43. Geo. Wencke, Guide Rock. 44. James A. Davidson, Riverton. 45. Lewis Sargent, Wheatland. 46. W. N. Hyatt, Guide Rock. 47. W. A. Cunningham, Coverton. 48. Eugene Hunter, Riverton. 49. J. O. Chamberlin, Inavale. 50. Wm. J. Wright, St. Stephens. 51. John May, Wheatland. 52. J. A. Anderson, Blue Hill. 53. John Blaine, Berne. 54. John Burtis, Red Cloud. 55. E. Salomon, Catherton. 56. H. H. Mosteller, Blue Hill. 57. J. F. Strong, Guide Rock. 58. J. H. Anderson, Red Cloud. 59. John H. Gesler, Blue Hill. 60. Joseph Hare, Cowles. 61. C. H. Wilson, Red Cloud. 62. Otto Skjelvar, Red Cloud. 63. S. Kersjader, Coverton. 64. J. C. Fulton, Scott. 65. John A. Shert, Red Cloud. 66. S. VanNolan, Guide Rock. 67. N. L. Fraser, Guide Rock. 68. J. H. Hill, Red Cloud. 69. D. P. Newcomer, Blue Hill. 70. H. McTigue, Red Cloud. 71. J. H. Hill, Red Cloud. 72. J. H. Holart, Blue Hill. 73. B. H. Gray, Guide Rock. 74. S. Current, Anahoy.

G. A. R. Resolutions. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by Garfield Post, No. 80, at its regular meeting, June 2, 1884.

WHEREAS, The members of Garfield Post, and we, think all ex-soldiers present, have reason to remember with pride our esteemed citizen, Rev. J. K. Harris, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we do extend to the Rev. Mr. Harris our sincere thanks for his graceful recitation of our cause by so kindly opening his church, and the many kind words spoken Memorial Day.

WHEREAS, The Red Cloud Cornet Band has through the mean, contemptible, sneaking acts of its leader and some other members, succeeded in defaming every attempt to procure music for memorial services; and the Red Cloud base ball club, by their persistent efforts to get up a game of ball, thereby aiding the band in their efforts, have deserved a day set apart by the Nation in commemoration of its dead defenders, which remains us of a similar spirit that has existed before, when the men whose memory we wished to commemorate were at the front falling like blades of grass before the sickle. Therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the band as now organized, and the base ball club are not entitled to the confidence of this Post or of patriotic citizens of Red Cloud and adjoining towns.

WHEREAS, The actions of the business men in closing their places of business and helping to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

RESOLVED, That the business men who have closed their places of business and helped to commemorate the memory of the noble dead; and we, as a Post heartily extend our thanks to them and to all who aided by their presence on Memorial Day.

I am surprised to find that so many of us in this enlightened age are prone to talk, and write, also of man and nature doing this and that, in fact almost everything, instead of recognizing the all-prevailing and sovereign influence, or power of God as determining all the affairs of the world. This is so much the case at present as to render it necessary to furnish a few hints on his head such as may be both corrective and regulative. The management of the world and all its affairs are ever in the hands of one who numbers all the hairs of our heads; who provides for his birds, and determines the time when each one of them shall die; and who is acquainted with every flower in our gardens, and every one in the wilderness, and they all receive from him their beauty as they are painted by him to the minutest tint.